

East Seaboard Fights Debris Left by Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The devastated Eastern Seaboard fought to clear a monumental mass of debris today as the worst week of winter storms in its history faded under clearing skies. Sufferers in five states had President Kennedy's promise of federal disaster relief.

A storm that dropped seven inches of snow on parts of Georgia dwindled in intensity as it plodded northward Friday night and was expected to disappear during the day. It carried rain and light snow as far north as southern New England.

Tides running at a foot above normal slowed the drainoff of flooded coastal lowlands and hampered cleanup operations from Miami Beach to southern New England.

But this latest assault of the dying winter weather was small compared to the storm that began Tuesday and ravaged the coast for three days, leaving 36 known dead, 10 missing and damage estimated at $300 million.

Hard-hit sections of New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia were due financial aid as a result of President Kennedy's designation of them as disaster areas. Also included was West Virginia, which suffered from floods last week.

A disaster declaration entitles stricken areas to federal financial aid to repair public facilities. Private homeowners in six states were covered under a separate disaster designation by the Small Business Administration, which prepared to grant them low-interest, long-term rehabilitation loans.

The Agriculture Department listed 17 damaged counties in four states where farmers may obtain emergency credit to replenish property, livestock and land damaged by the storm.

To aid storm victims in Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Maryland, the American Red Cross set up a disaster relief headquarters at Wilmington, Del. A separate headquarters in Mantoloking, N.J., handled that state.

New Jersey, which caught the full force of the storm, suffered damage estimated at $100 million or more and a loss of at least 12 lives. Several hundred New Jersey residents have taken refuge in temporary shelters.

Beach Haven, N.J., one of Long Beach Island's chief resort centers, was reported to have almost washed away, with 90 per cent of its homes either destroyed or badly damaged. More than 1,000 homes were reported to have disappeared along a 30-mile section of New Jersey's South Shore.

29 Army Men in Hands of Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-nine U.S. Army men are listed by the Pentagon as being in the hands of the Communists.

They are among 227 seized by the Communists since 1954, a Senate subcommittee was advised Thursday. The figures were in a letter signed by Cyrus R. Vance, Defense Department counsel.

There was no explanation of when, how or where the military men were captured. Carlisle P. Runge, assistant secretary of defense, who was testifying in an investigation of anti-Communist indoctrination of troops, said he didn't know anything about the details.

The letter said 207 Army personnel had fallen into Communist hands. Twenty-nine are listed as missing, presumed under Sino-Soviet control; and seven have been reported dead, although their bodies have not been returned. The other 171 were returned to the Army.

Twenty Air Force men were captured but all have been released, Vance reported. No Navy men were listed as having been seized by the Communists.

States Start Mop Up After Heavy Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Residents and authorities of the six-state area battered by the big storm, bolstered by prospects of massive federal aid, have begun mopping up operations after a three-day rampage of wind and water.

The death toll stood at least at 35, with a number of persons missing. Property damages have been estimated at well over $165 million.

The coastal sections of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina have been declared disaster zones by the Small Business Administration, which grants special, long term loans to property owners.

Outright federal aid must come by proclamation of President Kennedy. Prospects are bright that he will take prompt action.

These grants would go to state and local governmental units for the repair of roads, bridges, schools and other facilities.

The governors of New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland already have asked the President to declare their stricken sectors disaster areas.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York has asked Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to petition for designation of stricken sectors as disaster areas.

Additional federal aid was announced Thursday by the Department of Agriculture, which said emergency food supplies were being distributed to storm victims through state and local agencies.

Damage estimates by states: New Jersey and Delaware, $50 million each; Virginia, $30 million; New York, $25 million; North Carolina, $3 to $5 million; and Maryland "many millions."

Pestilence and starvation menaced survivors, with practically all food supplies and sewage facilities wiped out. Acceptable drinking water constituted a major problem in many areas.

In North Carolina, Gov. Terry Sanford flew over the distressed area. "I thought it was going to be bad, but it is much worse than I imagined," he said.

H. Mat Adams, New Jersey conservation commissioner, said the damage in his state was worse than anything in a generation.

State emergencies have been declared by Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey and Gov. Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware.

Trimble's House Proposal Fails

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. James W. Trimble, D-Ark., failed Thursday in an attempt to increase the membership of the House to 487.

Representatives voted 142 to 51 against Trimble's proposed amendment. The purpose of the legislation was to retain House seats for Arkansas and some other states which will lose them due to population losses.

A bill to increase membership from 435 to 438 was stymied in parliamentary procedure Thursday.

Trimble said he was trying to protect his own state with his amendment. Supporters of the bill argued that it was necessary because of "equity and justice" to protect states whose House losses stemmed from admission of Hawaii and Alaska to the union.

30 Miners Die in Blast in Germany

HEESSEN, Germany (AP)—A coal mine explosion touched off by blasting killed 30 miners today and injured 8 others in this Ruhr Valley town, mine officials reported.

The explosion in the state-owned Sachsen Mine occurred just half an hour before the morning shift of 2,200 was due at work. A spokesman said the casualty toll was relatively low because only skeleton night crews were working.

The explosion occurred just 30 days after a fire-damp blast in the Luisenthal Mine in the Saarland to the south took 299 lives.

The mine spokesman said all miners appeared to be accounted for and the death toll was not expected to rise unless some of the injured men did not survive.

He said the explosion occurred in a horizontal tunnel connecting various mining locations more than 3,000 feet underground. He reported the blast was apparently caused when blasting ignited a pool of methane gas or fire-damp which had collected in the tunnel.

The explosion did not start a fire, and men not directly struck by the blast were not endangered.

Car Driven by Three Youths

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Police chased down a stolen car and found it had three drivers.

One small boy was operating the steering wheel and brake pedal. Another had his foot on the accelerator. And the third youngster was the gear shifter. They went to Juvenile Court.

Asks Re-election

Railways Ask Permission to Merger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve merger of the two railroads.

The application, announced here, said "three competitively balanced rail systems" are being developed in the East. It said the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Norfolk and Western railways are creating two such systems, the PRR and NYC the third.

The PRR-NYC application said the merger would mean annual savings before taxes of $75 million, improved services to the public, and a better competitive position with other modes of transportation.

The application said some benefits would accrue promptly upon merger and other savings would be accomplished gradually.

Burma Will Not Seize Industry

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Brig. Aung Gyi, No. 2 man in Gen. Ne Win's military government, declared today there will be no nationalization of oil or other industries under Burma's week-old regime.

Gyi told a news conference the Revolutionary Council, which took over last Friday after Gen. Win's coup against Premier U Nu, will do its utmost to attract foreign capital by creating the right climate for investment.

He said many grandiose schemes of the former Socialist government would be dropped in favor of more practical projects, such as the American-financed Mandalay-Rangoon highway, which had been allowed to drag.

Gyi also said that a major military campaign was being prepared to wipe out insurgents. Rebels of all kinds—Communists Karens, Mons, Kachins, Shans—have been terrorizing parts of the countryside for years.

Home Town to Give Powers Big Welcome

BIG STONE GAP, Va. (AP)—

The hill-country neighbors of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers will welcome him home here Monday in ceremonies that may be long on speeches but definitely short on hoopla.

"It will be sort of a hero's welcome," said Big Stone Gap Mayor Carl Murphy.

But, he added, there will be no parade, no motorcade, no bands when Powers revisits his native Wise County.

The low-keyed exercises will be jointly sponsored by the Wise County towns of Pound, where Powers grew up; Norton, where his father runs a cobbler's shop; and Big Stone Gap.

Big Stone Gap was picked as the scene of the welcome home celebration because it has the necessary facilities—a City Armory that will hold 1,500 persons.

"Everything we're going to do will be inside," said Mayor Murphy. "It shouldn't run more than an hour, the whole works. We're going to put a strict limit on speeches."

Plenty of speechmakers should be available. Beside local legislators, invitations have been sent to Virginia Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr.; the state's two U.S. senators, Harry F. Byrd and A. Willis Robertson; and 9th Dist. Rep. Pat Jennings.

Whether all these dignitaries actually will be here at 2 p.m. Monday is problematical. The invitations were issued only Friday night after a conference of Pound, Norton and Big Stone Gap officials.

Murphy said he and other people in this area felt "that since the (Powers) have been cleared by the Central Intelligence Agency, different uniforms, modeled on up-to-date feminine fashions, for each age group of girls and for leaders. The newest design is that of the Senior Scouts' uniform—a simple, well-cut two-piece dress of jewel-green sharkskin cotton.

The Brownies look pretty in their brown cotton belted dresses and brown felt beanies.

The change in Girl Scout headgear has kept pace with the changes in uniforms. They have run the gamut from World War I campaign-like hats through a pork pie model by the noted designer, Mainbocher, and a stylish beret designed by the famous milliner, Sally Victor.

Now girls can truly say that it's smart to be a Scout; but then, grandmother in her day undoubtedly thought so too.

Threatens to File More Racial Suits

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Desegregation suits may be filed soon against the Fort Smith Airport and North Little Rock and Pulaski County schools, Wiley Branton, Negro attorney, said Thursday.

And, Branton added in an interview, Negro parents in some east Arkansas cities have been talking to him about the possibility of filing lawsuits to force desegregation of schools. He did not name the cities.

Branton filed a suit Thursday attacking segregation in Little Rock parks and recreational facilities.

Tilmon Waters, president of the Pulaski County School Board, said there have been no recent requests by Negroes for admission to white schools.

A. O. Meredith, president of the North Little Rock School Board, said that as far as he knew, Branton had not talked to the board about desegregation. And Meredith said he was surprised at the statement.

Branton said he and Harold B. Anderson of Little Rock, another Negro attorney, were denied service in the dining room of the Fort Smith Airport Feb. 26 and had called the matter to the attention of city officials.

"If we don't get a satisfactory answer pretty quick," Branton said, "a lawsuit is going to be filed."

Of the Little Rock and Pulaski County school suits, Branton would say only that they are under consideration and that he had been approached by Negro parents on the subject.

The High Purpose of the Girl Scout Move, Founded 50 Years Ago, Assured Success

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"To inspire girls with the highest ideals of character, patriotism, conduct and service so that they may become active and happy citizens" is the high purpose of the Girl Scout movement founded 50 years ago in Savannah, Ga., by Juliette Gordon Low.

Apparently these ideals have been fulfilled, for in speaking of this world-wide organization Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) said, "It contributes so much to the morale, the character, the morals, and the integrity of young women in this movement."

Before a Girl Scout is recognized by her actions she is identified by her smart uniform. Local Girl Scouts will don their dress attire full uniforms and white gloves and go to the First Baptist Church in a body tomorrow, March 11, Girl Scout Sunday. They are to meet outside the church at 10:45 a.m.

The well-dressed Girl Scout of 1912, the year the Girl Scout organization was founded in the U. S., proudly wore a homemade uniform of dark blue duck with a light blue yard-square sateen neckerchief.

Times dictate the fashions and soon, during the World War I years, the Scouts donned khaki. The skirt had kick pleats for the leaders who, for a time, also wore "an uncompromising shirt-waist" with a torturing collar and cravat.

Miss Dorris S. Hough of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., one of the earliest Girl Scouts, recalls that her uniform "came to my boots" and with it I wore boots much like those that paratroopers wear today.

In 1927, the khaki gave way to green. Today's trim green uniforms are a far cry from those of scouting's early days. There are different uniforms, modeled on up-to-date feminine fashions, for each age group of girls and for leaders. The newest design is that of the Senior Scouts' uniform—a simple, well-cut two-piece dress of jewel-green sharkskin cotton.

The Brownies look pretty in their brown cotton belted dresses and brown felt beanies.

The change in Girl Scout headgear has kept pace with the changes in uniforms. They have run the gamut from World War I campaign-like hats through a pork pie model by the noted designer, Mainbocher, and a stylish beret designed by the famous milliner, Sally Victor.

Now girls can truly say that it's smart to be a Scout; but then, grandmother in her day undoubtedly thought so too.

State Spends $216 Per Student

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Education Department reported Thursday that $216 will be spent this year by the state for each public school pupil, an increase of $21 over last year.

The department's annual report showed the average daily attendance last year at 381,452, a slight increase over the previous year.

Education Commissioner Arch Ford said there are 418 school districts this year, a drop of one district from last year.

Other statistics reported for the current school year include:

Classroom teacher salaries total $55,845,679, an increase of $5,363,916.

Average teacher salary is $3,614, a $275 increase.

School districts are expected to increase spending by $8,722,652 on local operations for a total of $84,477,428.

Total indebtedness of the districts as of June 30, 1961 was $105,626,232 with an average millage of 36.48 mills.

The state budgeted $37,075,298 for minimum foundation aid to the districts during the current school year.

Workers Vote in Favor of Union

DECATUR, Ark. (AP)—Employees of Seymour Foods, Inc. have voted to continue the Food Handlers Union as bargaining agent.

Money Orders to Cuba to Be Banned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department has announced it will not accept money orders addressed to Cuba after March 18.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department has announced it will not accept money orders addressed to Cuba after March 18.

Announcing the ban, a spokesman said Thursday U.S. senders had complained of long delays—sometimes up to six months—in delivery of the money in Cuba.

Havana radio labeled the order a new aggression and charged it will deprive old people and invalids of money they have been receiving from relatives in the United States.

Texas Crop Loss Worst of All States

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—This winter had the worst of everything, snow-laden storms, floods and numbing cold, but it also brought joy to many Western farmers. Only in Texas, apparently, did the winter assault cause extensive losses—$19 million in citrus crops alone.

In Southern California, torrential rains brought floods but also broke a chronic drought. "We're in beautiful shape for the first time in many years," said the Los Angeles County agriculture commissioner, Kenneth L. Woolf.

The grain states exulted about the heavy snow cover that kept soil from blowing and put moisture into the ground the best way—through a slow, deep-reaching trickle.

But the cold did lasting damage to fruit trees in Texas. An unofficial guess is that 15 per cent were killed when a late February freeze hit the budding trees.

The citrus crop of Texas, estimated at more than 10 million boxes, was nearly a total loss. In two days of sub-freezing temperatures the state's commercial peach and plum crop worth $5 million was practically wiped out.

Citrus crop losses in California and Arizona were less severe.

The Texas loss proved a boom to Florida. Growers in Florida lost 4½ to 8 million boxes of oranges and 1-2 million boxes of grapefruit in a December freeze.

But the major loss was to very young trees which didn't affect this year's harvest. The crop forecast has been cut only from a record 99 million box orange crop to a healthy 96 million.

In Wyoming, heavy snowfall piled up a storehouse of dollars in the form of moisture in the mountain snow sheds. Agriculture officials fear the weather hurt livestock herds, but say field crop prospects are good.

"The situation appears surprisingly good," said the U.S. Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Montana. "The flooding caused no extensive damage but it was generally confined to areas where no crops were out."

Reports from Oklahoma and New Mexico and Colorado were similarly negative on damage. Colorado expects a wheat crop of about 54 million bushels this year, compared to 56 million in 1961.

McClellan Will Testify in Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Thursday he will ask Congress to act unless unions halt a new outbreak of strikes at missile bases.

McClellan, chairman of a Senate Investigations Subcommittee which last year investigated a wave of similar strikes, said that in the past 60 days work stoppages at missile bases increased so that they were slightly in excess of the national average of strikes in all industries.

Sheet metal workers struck at Central Arkansas Titan II Missile complex construction sites earlier this week, but returned to work Wednesday.

McClellan said he will lead a fight in Congress for action unless the unions do something. And he added "It is becoming increasingly clear that legislative action by Congress probably will be necessary to remedy this disgraceful condition."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., called on Congress to act immediately in the situation.

Kennedy to Speak at Demo Fund Dinner

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy plans to go cruising on the yacht Honey Fitz before steering into political waters with a speech tonight at a Democratic $100-a-plate dinner.

The chief executive is billed as principal speaker when some 3,000 party faithful are expected to assemble for a threefold purpose: To raise money, $300,000 or so, judging by advance sales; to put on a show of party amity in a state with increasing Republican strength, and to launch Sen. George A. Smathers on his reelection campaign.

The dinner is a testimonial to Smathers, an old friend of Kennedy's, who is seeking his third term in the Senate.

The opulent resort city buzzed with talk of possible demonstrations by Cuban refugees.

Leaders of the thousands of anti-Castro refugees in the Miami area have urged them to put on a demonstration to show their thanks for U.S. assistance and sympathy.

But most sources Friday night discounted reports that 35,000 or more refugees would mass in front of the beachfront hotel where the banquet will be held.

However, police acted to head off the risk of any trouble. Two hundred officers were on duty and warnings have gone out that anyone starting a disturbance will be arrested.

The President is staying at the home of the late Harriet E. Young on the Biscayne Bay side of Miami Beach.

Kennedy occupied a second-floor bedroom overlooking the bay and the mansion's swimming pool. The presidential yacht was tied up at the dock.

The President spent more than an hour and a half Friday visiting at the Palm Beach home of his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is recuperating from the stroke he suffered in December.

Castro Up for Head of Cuban Party

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's policy makers put Prime Minister Fidel Castro at the top of a list of 25 persons announced today as the directorate for the nation's Integrated Revolutionary Organization.

This body, known as the ORI, is considered the "cornerstone for the projected new single Cuban political party—the United party of the Socialist Revolution."

Raul Castro, the armed forces minister and brother of Fidel, was No. 2 man on the list, followed by the minister of industries, Ernesto Guevara, and President Osvaldo Dorticos.

Until now the national directorate of the ORI had never been announced formally, although key Cuban figures have been referred to as national leaders for several months.

The decision to constitute this Cuban commissariat officially was reached Thursday according to a communique which says the formation "signifies a great step toward the formation of the United party of the Socialist Revolution of Cuba," which eventually will be formed by "the best men and women of the Cuban nation."

Haydee Santamaria, who fought with the rebels in the Sierras, is the only woman in the group of 25.

The announcement appeared under banner headlines in all three morning papers. There was no editorial comment.

Secrecy Over Woman in Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—A cloak of secrecy was instituted at Idlewild Airport today upon the arrival from the Congo of Elizabeth Thuring, principal figure in a slaying there.

She is the young American woman who was alone with Lt. Col. Helen D. Stogner, U.S. assistant military attaché, when he was slain in his Leopoldville residence last month. Investigation indicated he was struck by a bullet coming from outside the house.

Reporters and photographers were barred from the U.S. customs area when Miss Thuring arrived.

Washington customs authorities said that the New York action was the result of a new policy.

The airport customs enclosure will no longer be available to photographers and reporters, it was said.

The Washington officials added that there are other places where travelers may be met, including a press room.

Miss Thuring, 22, escorted by her mother and father, brushed past newsmen and hurried to a waiting car as she emerged from customs.

Lt. Col. Stogner, 39, was married and the father of six children. His family lives in El Paso, Tex.

Friends said he had spoken of obtaining a divorce to marry Miss Thuring at Easter.

U2 Pilot Will Get Vacation

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Barbara Powers is spring cleaning ahead of time to have everything ready when her husband, U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, completes a physical checkup at a Washington, D.C., hospital.

She said Thursday she expects him to visit this middle Georgia city in a week or 10 days.

"He loves to fish and we're planning a family reunion," she said. "There are nieces and nephews he's never seen."

Mrs. Powers, 28, met her husband at an undisclosed place in this country shortly after he was released from a Soviet prison and exchanged for Soviet spy Rudolf Abel on Feb. 10.

Then she returned to Milledgeville, where she has been living with her mother, and Powers appeared before a congressional committee.

At Washington, officials of Georgetown University Hospital said Powers, 32, is being given a routine medical examination by Dr. W. Proctor Harvey, staff internist specializing in cardiology.

"The examination is expected to take only a few days but officials declined to say when Powers will be released."

Priest Denies Church Broke Up Marriage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An ex-priest, whose wife contends church officials forced into a monastery against his will, denies the church had anything to do with his leaving.

Walter A. Ryan, 57, object of a search since his wife made her charges in a $2.3-million suit against the Roman Catholic Church, termed his wife's charges ridiculous and an unfair reflection upon the Catholic Church.

He said he came to California seven years ago because of a drinking problem which he has since conquered, and has not left the state since.

"My connections with the Church had been cut long before I left New York," Ryan said in an interview Thursday with the San Francisco Examiner.

His wife, Anne, 41, of Glen Head, N.Y., filed the suit Monday in Mincola, N.Y. She charged that Roman Catholics had spirited Ryan away from her and their four children in 1955.

She said they were secretly married in Maryland on Nov. 13, 1950, while Ryan was assistant pastor of the Glen Cove parish.

Ryan gave a different version. "I had left home under a mutual agreement with my wife, and not under the influence of liquor or at the insistence of anyone," he said.

Ryan said he headed to San Francisco where friends helped him with his drinking problem.

He said that for four years he sent his wife the monthly check for $201.57 which he received from the Army as a disability pension.

"I contributed to the support of my wife and family up until the time the fourth child was born—two years after I had last seen my wife," Ryan said.

"My wife's claim that I visited her and our three daughters in 1956 is utterly false. Once I left home, I never returned."

French Planes Strafe Rebel Artillery

By ANDREW BOROWIEC ALGIERS (AP)—Rocket-firing French planes today strafed Algerian rebel artillery firing at French positions along the Tunisian-Algerian frontier for the third straight day.

French and Algerian nationalist delegates met for their third session of peace talks in the French resort of Evian outwardly moved by the flareup of shooting in eastern Algeria.

One informant said the talks were making slow but steady progress toward a full agreement, including a cease-fire, to put Algeria on the road to independence.

A French communiqué minimized the rebel artillery bombardment and said it was a harassment and not an attack. It added that the artillery duel had not affected movement of some French troops from the frontier toward the cities in the west.

The French said one French plane in difficulty over the frontier was abandoned by its pilot. Army sources said the plane was a U.S.-built Skyraider fighter.

The communiqué said the Algerian bombardment had killed two French soldiers and wounded 13, and killed eight Moslem civilians and wounded more than 30.

French patrols scouting ahead of the French lines found the bodies of 10 rebel soldiers and two rebel wounded, the communiqué said.

Both groups at Evian refused to comment on the sudden upsurge of fighting in Algeria after a long period of virtual truce during which the spotlight had shifted to terrorist attacks by the right-wing Secret Army Organization.

French warplanes—American-built B26 bombers and French Mystere jets—roared into the frontier fight Thursday to back up the gunners with round-the-clock raids from Bone.

There were some fears the frontier fighting might spread but an informant in Tunis said it was more likely that it would spur the peace delegates to an accord.

Readers' Turn

Dear Helen: Victorian solutions aren't the cure for 20th century problems. A reader of your column recently complained about two sons being doormats in their own homes. As a result their marriages were falling apart.

The sons wanted to know where they had failed. Their mother blames their wives, contending that any marriage in which a wife failed to play up her husband's ego would collapse. You agreed.

I disagree with you both. The husbands were at fault. They failed because they didn't, or perhaps could not, think for themselves. They revealed this by turning to their mother, not their wives.

She and you said, in substance, that Nature has cast man as aggressor, provider and protector. When that role is reversed, no marriage will survive. You encouraged the weakling husbands to revert to cave-man tactics.

Pat, pretentious solutions such as these are based on bigotry, self-righteous thinking which reveals a sorrowful misunderstanding of the complexities of such a problem.

If you must give opinions and advice, please try to comprehend the problem first and have regard for opinions different from your own. —Miss L.

Dear Miss L.P. I'll stick to my premise. If a marriage is to be successful, the wife must put her husband first. The woman who doesn't recognize this basic fact is asking for trouble. But there's one catch: the wife has got to believe that her husband is really head of the house.

Here is something I always ask from my readers and rarely get—two sides of the story:

Dear Helen: I am 39 and my husband 37. He's a good provider when he works, which he doesn't like to do.

We own a house—little more than a roof over heads but, it's ours. I worked five years to help pay for it and the furnishings.

There is a son by my first husband. We divorced 17 years ago, but he's never really been out of my life. And it is because of him I am now leaving my second husband after 13 years.

I filed for divorce and am currently living with my 19-year-old son in an apartment furnished by my first husband.

He is 13 years older than I and I don't love him the way I do this present husband. Both tug and pull at me until I can't think straight. All I do is cry.

Should I return to my former husband or cancel all plans for a divorce and go back to my present husband of who I think a lot? He's a good sport though jealous, but maybe I gave him cause. As long as we are separated, he works but if I return, he'll stop on the grounds that he has to stay home and watch me.

—Mixed Up Woman.

Dear Helen: My ex-wife said she wrote you and gave my home as a return address. I am her first husband. She is now with me and our son, her only child. Like her, I married a second time and am also in the process of divorcing.

Our son wants us to remarry. Actually it is he who brought us together again. I always have loved his mother and always will. We separated during the second World War. It was one of those war casualties and never should have happened. I am willing to forget the past and live for the future—with her. Please advise us. —Hopeful husband. P.S. All our love always, for your help.

Dear People: Listen to your son. Loving you both as he obviously does, he has only your good at heart. Mixed-up must know in her own heart that he is right else she wouldn't raise the question. My advice is—start a new life together!

Dear Helen: Occasionally a letter appears in your column from some childless couple who longs for a baby but hesitates to adopt one. They are making a great big mistake in not listening to their hearts.

My husband and I have three lovely children—all are adopted. The first was a 4-day baby boy; the second a 2-week-old girl; and the third a 3-month-old girl. We have never stopped thanking God for the privilege of becoming parents to those youngsters, now all grown, with children of their own.

They knew that we adopted them not because we had to, but because we wanted to. It is our belief that you get back from your children (natural or adopted), just what you give. If you give love and honesty, they will be like any others; sometimes good, sometimes naughty but fundamentally right in their thinking. Yesterday, two of our phones us from Michigan. The daughter said, "Oh, Mama, I just wanted to say I love you so much!" The son said, "Mother we just couldn't let the day go by without calling to say how much you mean to us." Those words were heavenly music to us. —Mrs. E.L. Wolfe, Pomona, Calif.

U. S. Plane Found Wrecked in France

ALLENCON, France (AP)—Wreckage of a U. S. Air Force transport, missing with 12 crewmen, was found today in heavy woods near Allencon, French police reported from the site there were no survivors.

The four-engine plane disappeared Thursday.

There was no indication what had caused the plane to crash.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said names of the dead would not be announced until next of kin were informed.

The transport, at its last report, said it was in the vicinity of Allencon, which is 60 miles southwest of the plane's base at Evreux.

The aircraft was on a routine training mission with five officers and seven enlisted men aboard.

The plane and crew were from the 32nd Air Division. The planes based at Evreux constitute a transport pool for U.S. operations in Western Europe. They also do much of the shuttling of U.N. troops and supplies to the Congo.

Jet Recorder to Be Examined

NEW YORK (AP)—The flight recorder of the American Airlines jetliner that crashed March 1 has been dredged from the water of Jamaica Bay and sent to Washington. Investigators hope it may provide clues to the cause of the crash that cost the lives of all 95 aboard.

The flight recorder—an orange-painted sphere about the size of a basketball—was designed to record automatically the speed, altitude, compass heading and other details of a flight.

Civil Aeronautics Board investigators said the device was relatively undamaged and may give some indication of why the jetliner plunged into the bay only three miles from Idlewild Airport. It had just taken off for a nonstop flight to Los Angeles.

CAB staff member Edward E. Slatery Jr. has cautioned that the recorder may be able to tell what happened but not why it happened.

Business Picture in State Differs

Arkansas Business

By JOHN R. JUTTON

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—During 1962 hundreds of new businesses will crop up across the country. An equal number is likely to fold.

The picture in Arkansas is little different than in the other 49 states.

One such "statistic" has gone into production in North Little Rock and Bob Stewart, manager of the Quik Spuds Co., is optimistic that he's found a winner.

Quik Spuds is the only potato processing company in Arkansas which distributes a variety of ready-to-cook potatoes without need of freezing or canning.

Stewart's plans for the immediate future call for a daily production of eight tons for customers spread over a 100-mile radius.

And it's quite a savings—in time and money—to the customers.

Quik Spuds are sold currently in 25-pound bags at 11 cents a pound.

The customer, depending upon what he has ordered, receives a product fully processed, ready to drop in boiling water or oil.

Eliminated are the need to peel, remove "eyes" and spots and slicing.

Stewart's stainless steel operation does all this at a rate of slicing 550 pounds an hour.

In its initial stage, Quik Spud is using only five workers.

But, Stewart says, as the business becomes better known and begins its expansion 10 more workers are expected to be added to the North Little Rock plant.

While this number at first appears small, it does not include several dozen independent distributors who will some day carry the product daily across the state.

Although the potato production is geared primarily toward large customers such as hotels, restaurants, cafes and drive-ins, in the next few months two-pound packages will make their appearance in grocery stores for home consumption.

Basically, the processing procedure is quite simple.

Workers hand-feed potatoes into the peeler. After this operation, the potatoes are "spotted and eyed" by the workers who next hand-feed the product into a slicer which cuts a variety of shapes.

The final process, before packaging, soaks the potatoes in an anti-oxidant solution to retard discoloration.

After each batch is tasted, the product is ready for distribution.

Stewart says the potatoes will stay fresh from five to eight days, depending upon the amount of refrigeration.

One aspect of the production process which Stewart is quick to point out is there is no waste.

The peelings are carted away by a hog farmer for feed while hash browns are made from potato scraps.

Stewart, who formerly traveled Arkansas as a company representative, is pleased with the reception his new product has received.

Its future, he feels, stands a good chance of being a bright one. "After all," Stewart commented, "People have been eating potatoes for a long time."

Suicides Usually Give Notice

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Would-be suicides usually give advance notice of their intentions, either subtly or overtly, an expert on suicide said here today.

Dr. Edwin Schneidman, co-director of the Suicide Prevention Center at Los Angeles, said a person's behavior preceding self-destruction usually has clues to what he intends to do.

Observant friends and family can read these clues and perhaps avert the tragedy, Schneidman said.

Schneidman was in North Little Rock to address the 14th annual Institute in Psychiatry and Neurology at Ft. Soots Veterans Hospital.

When a person openly announces suicide intentions and climbs on a building ledge or a bridge rail, Schneidman said, time is one's best ally in keeping the person from self-destruction.

Time gives the struggle between the person's will to die and his will to live time to resolve itself in favor of "live," he said.

"The fact that the person is on the ledge indicates he wants to die," Schneidman said, "but the fact that he isn't already dead on the sidewalk means he also wants to live."

About 1,200 persons are attending the three-day institute which runs through Saturday.

Contractor Jailed in New Mexico

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The FBI said today that William L. Perry, a Brinkley contractor who disappeared in January, has been arrested in Aztec, N. M.

J. J. Casper, special agent in charge of the FBI at Little Rock, said Perry had surrendered to his uncle, who is chief of police in Aztec.

Casper said Perry was charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. He said he was wanted for allegedly cashing a bad check for $6,000. Casper said a warrant had been issued in Monroe County.

"What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits?" (Psalms 116:12). Every man of earnest and serious mind must ask himself this question as he meditates on the goodness and the Grace of God toward him. We want to do what is right in our every association with God and man. The Government takes as its proper share at least twenty per cent of every man's income. WHAT IF GOD SHOULD REACH DOWN INTO YOUR LIFE AND MINE AND TAKE WHAT REALLY BELONGS TO HIM? How much would be left for us? Have you raised corn? Or did you and God work together in making the corn crop? And just which of you put more time and energy into the process? Have you "struck" oil? Who spent centuries creating the oil and holding it in the underground lake until you came along? Is the oil really all yours? What is God's share? YOU AND GOD ARE PARTNERS IN THE OIL BUSINESS; WHAT IS HIS PORTION?

Jesus Christ is our revelation of the generosity of God who has been the eternal Giver, enriching us with every sort of good thing. From the day of the first creation God has been at work with and for man. Each of us represents in his body and in his soul the everlasting toil of God, who truly wants to make us His children and who desires us to join Him in making an ever better world for His sons and daughters to live in. JESUS IS OUR PATTERN OF WHAT A MAN CAN GIVE TO HELP IN THE PURPOSE OF GOD. HOW MUCH DID JESUS GIVE BACK TO GOD?

Jewish and Christian people have agreed that we ought to give at least a tenth of our income to God and His Church for the carrying on of His redemptive program. A tenth will not necessarily discharge all our debt, but it will show a sense of deep gratitude. Everything is His, even the cattle of a thousand hills and the abundant harvest from the fields. He gives us everything which makes life abundant. Our ideal is to join in the prayer, "Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord to Thee." Let's be good partners with God. Let us be His co-workers. MAY WE GLADLY GIVE BACK TO HIM AT LEAST A TENTH OF WHAT HE SO FREELY GIVES US."
